1. In January 1954 newcomers to Canton could not obtain accommodations in hotels or private homes without permanent or temporary resident certificates. Persons arriving in Canton from Macao or Hong Kong were required to leave their entry permits with the police; no temporary resident certificates were issued to them.¹
2. Each family was required to report to the police before 2100 hours if a member of the family was away for the night and if persons in addition to the regular family were staying at the family house.
